Remembering to be Thankful

November is without a doubt my favorite month. Growing up, this was the time of year when temperatures began to fall, the leaves had exploded into their beautiful fall colors, soup and chili were on the menu, and, of course, the college football season was in full swing. November's arrival also meant that Thanksgiving was just around the corner.

As a child, Thanksgiving celebrations frequently included a trip to my grandparents' house where a couple of hundred of us piled into their home for good food and a sweet fellowship with family we might only see once or twice a year. Those gatherings hold a special place in my memory and my heart. I look back on them with a lot of fondness, particularly as so many of those family members have gone on to their eternal reward.

November at SBA means that Servant Days and Senior Trip are now upon us. I doubt Servant Days and Senior Trip will rank up there with family Thanksgiving gatherings in the minds of our students. Still, I hope they will look back on them with fondness, remembering good work done together in service to others, and a time when they drew near as a class.

As your family gathers for Thanksgiving this year, be sure to ask your students about their class trip. Thanksgiving is an appropriate time to reflect on their school year so far. Though school isn't always their favorite thing to think about on break, they have much to be grateful for – teachers who know them and love them, classmates who walk with them through the highs and lows that come with every school year, teammates to compete with, coaches who challenge and push them, and a Christian education that is preparing them to live for God.

Speaking of giving thanks – we're grateful for you and for the privilege of partnering with your family in raising your children in the nurture and admonition of the Lord. You have many options when it comes to educating your children, and we don't take it for granted that you chose SBA. Thank you, and Happy Thanksgiving!

With much gratitude,
Mr. McClure
